CLARIFICATION:

1. Question: We are a private organization that works with university partners to connect the universities to districts to offer teacher preparation programs to school employees who wish to become teachers. The university partners use our online platform to deliver the courses for their degree programs. One of our partners is currently working with NOLA paraprofessionals through a KIPP NOLA program, and they are interested in the opportunity presented in the RFP. Can we respond to the RFP on their behalf, or must the university be the entity listed as the proposer on the cover page and the forms?

Answer: All organizations with formally established university partnerships and that have the ability to recruit, prepare, and develop highly effective, culturally competent teacher candidates from diverse backgrounds may respond to the University Pipeline Services RFP.
